The long day's journey has come to an end
And the accomplishments of hard work must be rewarded again
With peace and solace, I enjoy my cigar
As smoke rings rise and float afar
My mind is content and my thoughts are serene
For I've found the pleasure of life in this scene.

"Our family has always taken great pride in the quest for true originality in everything we do. That's why no one can ever honestly imitate our passion for perfection."

Arturo Fuente Gran Reserva Cigars

The Arturo Fuente Gran Reserva® series is the flagship of the esteemed Arturo Fuente® brand. Representing four generations of family tradition, every Arturo Fuente® cigar carries the personal family touch that makes it one of the world's finest. Only the highest quality vintage tobaccos and hand workmanship go into Arturo Fuente cigars, resulting in a blend of art and craftsmanship.

Each leaf is selected from a private reserve set aside exclusively for the making of these cigars. These fine tobaccos are internationally recognized for their superiority. Arturo Fuente Gran Reserva® cigars are then skillfully rolled with African Cameroon, Connecticut shade or Ecuadorian Sungrown wrappers. Taking absolutely no shortcuts, every step of the cigar making process is done completely by hand, to ensure a finished cigar without parallel. The cigars are then aged in Spanish cedar vaults to the peak of perfection to create a marriage of the blends producing an excellent "individualistic" heavyweight cigar to be counted among the world's finest.

Arturo Fuente Magnum R®

After years of development, Arturo Fuente proudly presented the Magnum R line of cigars. The Magnum R line features an exclusive Rosado Sungrown wrapper, culled from the lower primings of fine Ecuadorian tobacco plants and aged for nearly a decade. It is these rare and delicate wrapper leaves that create this complex, balanced smoke.

The Magnum R cigar appeals to cigar lovers who enjoy a creamier and smoother cigar experience without sacrificing flavor. With a distinctive, sweet finish and elegant, complex undertones, this cigar is destined to become another Fuente classic.

Magnum R Rosado Sungrown cigars were released in four sizes, each aptly named for their ring size. Hence the names Vitola 52, Vitola 54, Vitola 56, and Vitola 58. Following the same tradition, the "Super 60" is an impressive 60-ring cigar. The essence of these cigars is complemented by the same elegant trimmings that accompany all Arturo Fuente cigars.

Arturo Fuente Hemingway®

Anna and Carlos A. Fuente

As told by Carlos Fuente Jr.

"My grandfather made Perfecto cigars; they were very popular during the 1920's, 30's and 40's. When I was growing up we made perfectos by hand, but as time went by there were fewer and fewer cigar makers rolling perfectos. As the cigar makers grew older, they retired, they passed away. It took a real master to make a true Perfecto cigar."

"As a child I was fascinated with that shape and the really difficult art of the craft that the Perfecto cigar represents. So when we first came to the Dominican Republic in 1980, I thought we should start making those shapes again. At that time, no one was making shaped cigars. I wanted to bring back that old world style just to keep the art, the tradition, the craft, alive."

"Today we make an entire line of Perfecto cigars. These cigars are something special for our fellow cigar smokers to enjoy."

"Hemingway cigars have a very warm place in my heart and in my memories. It is very pleasing for me to remember watching these shaped cigars being made by my grandfather, and to think that these cigars are now made in our factory in the Dominican Republic, that is very fulfilling. I hope that you enjoy the Hemingway cigars and what they mean to our family."

“It’s amazing that, after so many premium brands and sub-brands and lines, we can still continue to make so many different flavors that are all Fuente. If I’ve accomplished anything in this life, it’s because my father has taught me. His memory still inspires me and drives me to do my best every day. A tribute to the early days of cigar making, Casa Cuba is the last blend of the late Carlos Fuente Sr. using the time-honored traditions he learned from his father Arturo Fuente, about the experience and flavor of Cuban cigars.

Carlos Sr. selected an Ecuadorian Havana wrapper tobacco and chose a mix of Cuban-seed Dominican grown long filler and binder, and blended them in the same manner he used blending Cuban tobacco many years ago.

A tribute to the early days of cigar making

The Castillo de los Tres Reyes del Morro is the best-known castle fortress in Cuba and was built to guard the Bay of Havana. Construction began in 1589 and was completed in 1660.

Casa Cuba cigars are named after Cuban dominoes and elegantly packaged with vintage flair.

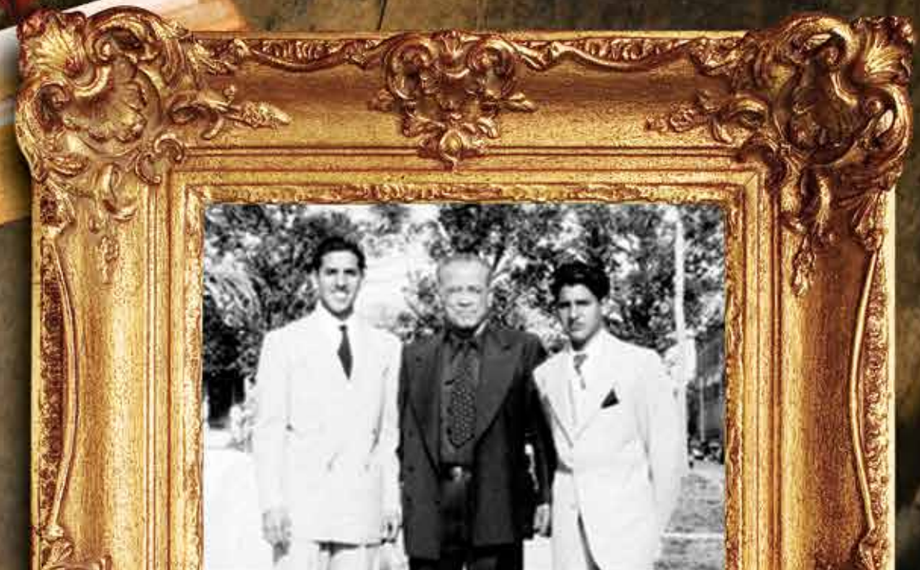

In September of 1998, Hurricane Georges tore through the Caribbean Sea causing widespread destruction throughout the region, including the famous Chateau de la Fuente farm in the Dominican Republic, where the wrapper leaf for the acclaimed Fuente Fuente OpusX cigar is grown and harvested.

Two years later the storm's destruction resulted in a shortage of Fuente Fuente OpusX wrapper tobacco. Rather than halting production, Carlos Fuente Jr. ordered the use of a different wrapper, an aged Connecticut broadleaf. Once again, the Fuente family forged triumph from tragedy, and the Arturo Fuente Añejo cigar was born.

One of the world's most rare cigars, the Añejo cigar is rolled with the very best Dominican filler and binder from Chateau de la Fuente, then a 5-year-old Connecticut maduro wrapper aged in a Cognac barrel is added. This blend yields a rich, spicy, slightly sweet smoke and the unique aging process leaves a distinct finish.

Typically only available on Father's Day and Christmas, this cigar is one of the most exclusive cigars in the world today.

Arturo Fuente DESTINO al Siglo

After years in the making, the Arturo Fuente Destino al Siglo was master blended to commemorate the company's 100 year anniversary. Made with wrappers from Chateau de la Fuente, this line of cigars uses a Habano seed rather than the Corojo seed variety used to make the renown Fuente Fuente OpusX. Destino al Siglo will delight those who prefer a full-flavor, robust smoke.

This cigar is so exquisite, it can only be contained in the finest packaging. From the beautifully detailed cigar band to the Spanish cedar lift-out trays, the packaging is ornate and designed to look like a book. This century of destiny marks a major milestone in the Fuente family story.

Carlos Fuente Jr., the cigar's creator, remarks that the cigar represents the Fuente family story, the heritage, the love for our family and friends, our supporters, and our neighbors; "that's what I tried to compose," says Carlos. That's why even the sizes are named, Siglo de Amistad (Century of Friendship), Siglo de Passion (Century of Passion), Siglo de Amor (Century of Love), and Siglo de Familia (Century of Family). It's a special cigar with a special meaning. There are a lot of symbols and messages all over the label. Even the color is significant – why blue? Because my grandfather's original label, the one that I remember when I was a little boy, had the shield with AF the same as we have today, but instead of being red it was blue. It was that [shade of] blue. I was the one who changed the shield to red, probably back in the late 70s. So I thought it would be appropriate to go back to my grandfather's original color for this label."

Arturo Fuente ANGEL'S Share

The term "Angel's Share" is used in the wine making process. Wine makers often use oak barrels to store their wine during the aging process. When the wine ages for long periods of time, some of it will evaporate from the barrel. The evaporated wine is called the Angel's Share, alluding to the belief that the guardian angels that watch over the wine, sample it and give their blessings.

Since we lost so much priceless, aged tobacco during the fire in 2012, the inspiration for this cigar came from that exact term. The warehouses that burned down contained tobacco that had been aging since the late 40's and 50's. The Fuente family was saving it for the special, 100 year anniversary. Unfortunately, it wasn't meant to be as the fire consumed much of the precious tobacco. It made the family extremely sad and depressed, but out of that came the Angel's Share cigar. From this it is implied that the Angels enjoyed the enticing aroma from the tobacco that burned in the barns, but in turn, gave their blessings to the Fuente family for future successful endeavors.

The Fuente Fuente OpusX Angel's Share uses a wrapper from the middle priming of the tobacco plant as opposed to the top priming from which Fuente Fuente OpusX are typically made. Carlos Fuente Jr. focuses more on this part of the plant, which he believes is where most of the heart and flavor is.
